A Hospice Tribute

Garden

Celebrating a Loved One

One of my favorite childhood memories was watching my Mom work in the garden. One of my last memories of her was at the hospice house, surrounded by her loved ones, in peace and comfort. I thought it was only fitting to place a brick in her memory at the house where she was cared for. It is my way of celebrating her life while supporting the organization who gave us love, hope and support.

– Family Member

A Garden of Celebration and Honor

The Tribute Gardens offer a meaningful way for you to honor someone special while supporting the hospice mission.

The garden, with its beautiful landscaping, adds a lovely dimension to the peaceful surroundings of each Hospice House or Care Center. Its serene haven provides pleasure and comfort to patients, families, and visitors. Bricks are the focal point of the gardens and can be placed in honor and/or in memory of loved ones.

Celebrate the life of someone dear to you by dedicating a brick, garden rock or garden bench to remember a friend who loved nature, a favorite relative whose personality brought light to your life, or someone with whom you shared precious moments. Your gift makes a difference to those in need of end-of-life care.
